

EMPOWERING

OUR ASSOCIATES

Airgas is a company of entrepreneurs. That is our legacy – and our strength. From branch managers to cylinder fillers and route drivers to safety experts, all of our associates are encouraged to take ownership of their piece of the business. Their ideas and inner drive have earned Airgas a reputation as a company that cares deeply about quality, safety and customer service.

We value our associates and create an environment where our best people and best practices can move freely from branch to branch and region to region – but the relationship is a two-way street. Given room to grow personally and professionally, our associates have helped develop true innovations, such as the AcuGrav™ computerized filling systems for specialty gas mixtures.
